

Computer Transition Services, Inc. Announces New Location in Amarillo, Texas

Amarillo, Texas- March 10th, 2021 – Computer Transition Services, Inc. (CTSI) a Lubbock-based company, is pleased to announce the opening of their new office in Amarillo, TX. Located on the 21st Floor of the FirstBank Southwest in downtown, CTSI is honored and excited to join the Amarillo community.

“We felt a growing need to be closer to the businesses we support in the Panhandle. Providing prompt service and local support to these thriving communities is our priority,” said Michael Vaught, Senior Vice President of CTSI. “Texas has always been home for us, and we are proud to continue our support of the wonderful people and businesses that make Texas the best to conduct business!”

As the world evolves, the needs of businesses evolve at an exponential rate. To adequately meet these demands, CTSI continues to provide the most advanced IT solutions and support to small and large businesses throughout the South Plains, West Texas, the Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico. In the fall of 2020, CTSI officially moved into downtown Amarillo to better serve their Panhandle communities and businesses.

CTSI is a Managed Services Provider, and specializes in integrated, professional, secure and efficient solutions for companies who are relying more and more on technology to help them focus on their core business strengths and growth opportunities. CTSI views a business’ goals and growth strategy to be just as important as the innovations in technology we bring to the table.

Vaught continues, “Over the last thirty-six years, CTSI has continued to adapt and evolve to the ever-changing demands of the IT industry. We work together as a team to provide forward-thinking strategic planning along with business enhancing technologies to improve our clients’ bottom line and overall expectations of I.T.”
